Payment Information

Compensation

Tutors are paid by Direct Deposit to a US banking institution of their choice. Please note that all payments are made by the 6th business day of each month. This means that, due to weekends or bank holidays, your payment could arrive between the 6th and 10th calendar days of a month. If your payment is later than the 6th business day, please contact Tutor Support.

Canadian tutors: Due to additional processing times, you will receive Direct Deposits on the 6th business day of the month, with mailed checks going out a day or two later. To enroll in Direct Deposit, use the Ultipro system located at: <https://e43.ultipro.com>

Tutor Pay Rates

Tutor pay rates are based on three factors: subject taught, status (New, Intermediate, Advanced, Master), and whether a tutor is in session or in scheduled waiting time.

Subjects Taught

Tutors are paid an hourly session rate based on the subject s/he is tutoring. A tutor may tutor Essay Writing at one rate, Calculus at another rate, and Finance at a different rate. Tutor pay rates are provided to them in the offer letter at the point of hire.

Tutor Status

Tutors can experience a change of status based on criteria included in that section of this manual. One essential criterion is the recommendation from the Mentor. Change in status will be at the pay rate for that status level and subject or the minimum wage, depending on which is higher.

Session Rates/Waiting Rates

- Tutors are paid one rate while in session (i.e., in-session rate) and another rate while scheduled but waiting (i.e., scheduled wait rate). Session time is paid for the time a tutor spends in session with a student. The session rate varies by subject.
- Scheduled wait time is the time during the scheduled hours when the tutor is available and waiting to connect to a student. Tutors are paid for waiting time only if they have scheduled tutoring hours in advance. The waiting rate is paid at the tutor's local minimum wage.
- Tutors are also compensated for up to one minute at the waiting rate to complete the post-session survey. Tutors should spend a maximum of one minute on this task.

If a tutor has a scheduled session with a student, the tutor should sign into the classroom as early as 5 minutes prior to the start time. If the student has not arrived after 10 minutes past the hour, the appointment is canceled, and the tutor will be made available for on-demand student matching. The tutor will be paid at the waiting rate for the initial 5 minutes prior to the session starting and up to 10 minutes past the hour when waiting for the student's arrival.

Tax Issues

Tutors who are independent contractors are free to set their own schedules and work for other companies. As independent contractors, tutors do not have taxes deducted from tutoring paychecks, although independent contractors are still legally obligated to report the income to the IRS. All Tutor.com tutors must fill out a W9 tax form prior to being accepted as a Homework Help Tutor. Tutor.com must file the W9 form and will send tutors a 1099 form in late January/early February for the previous year's earnings. Please contact Support if nothing arrives by late February.

Canadian tutors are required to fill out the W8-BEN in place of the W9.

Online Information

All tutors will be in Ultipro's payroll system located at <https://e43.ultipro.com/Login.aspx>.

Concurrent Sessions

Tutors have the option, for some subjects, to tutor two sessions simultaneously. Tutors who take a concurrent session get paid an additional 15% of the rate for the higher paying subject for the time when they are in both sessions.

Example:

Tutor is tutoring an Algebra session for 30 minutes. Pay rate is $10/hr.

Tutor then adds a Calculus session and tutors for 20 min. Pay rate is $11.50/hr.

Tutor is working on both sessions for 20 minutes and on algebra alone for 10 minutes.

Tutor is paid:

Algebra:	10 min	paid:	$1.666667
Algebra and Calc	20 min	paid:	$4.40833
Total Pay:			$6.075

Payment Incentives

Monthly Awards

Tutor.com provides monthly awards for tutors and these are included in the first paycheck as Incentive Pay on the pay stub at the beginning of the month for the previous month. The awards are based upon recommendations from the Mentors/Tutors. These incentives include:

- Tutor of the Month – $50 incentive award
- Subject Tutor of the Month – $25 incentive award each for 4 subject specific tutors.
- Best Student Comment (x3) – $25 incentive award
This award is presented to 3 tutors who elicited the best student comments during the month. They are determined by a review by Tutor Management staff of student comments each month.
- Mentor Award – $25 incentive award
This award is given to a Mentor who was recommended for the award by one of his/her tutors.
- Tutor Referral Incentive – incentive award

This incentive is for referring Tutors to Tutor.com and is paid after the referred Tutor is approved to begin tutoring. The referred Tutor must indicate on the application the name of the Tutor.com Tutor who referred them. Self-referrals are also available to Tutors who add subjects post-onboarding that are eligible for the incentive and Tutor the subject for a period of at least 3 months. At the end of the 3-month period, the self-referral incentive is awarded. This incentive program is regularly changing based on the current and predicted needs of the service and current information is available in the Tutor Resource Center.

Performance Incentives

Tutors can earn one of two monthly bonuses based on certain qualitative and quantitative criteria. This bonus is a multiplier of the amount of money they have earned while in session with students during the month.

*Please see criteria on next page.

Tier 1

Tutors will earn a 6% bonus, based on their in-session earnings, by meeting the following criteria throughout the month:

- At least 35 hours of in-session time
- At least 75% of your rated sessions must be rated '5'
- When prompted in-session to make yourself available for a concurrent session request, you must affirm the prompt and go Available at least 20% of the time

Tier 2

Tutors will earn a 12% bonus, based on their in-session earnings, by meeting the following criteria throughout the month:

- At least 55 hours of in-session time
- At least 85% of your rated sessions must be rated '5'
- When prompted in-session to make yourself available for a concurrent session request, you must affirm the prompt and go Available at least 50% of the time

Example: John works for a total of 35 hours of in-session time during the month of March. He finishes the month with 25 rated sessions, with 19 of those sessions rated '5' for a percentage of 76%. He is prompted to make himself Available for a concurrent session request 12 times, accepting that prompt 4 times for a percentage of 33%. He has qualified for the Tier 1 bonus at the end of the month. When the month ends, he has earned $500 for time spent in-session with a student. He receives the 6% award, earning an additional $30.00.

Any time after the month has ended, the Tutor can go to the View My Billing Information to determine whether he/she has earned an incentive bonus, as well as see the amount earned. That amount will be part of the next payment received.
